English as an International Language

199 Undergraduate Open Seminar credit: 1 to 5 hours.
May be repeated.

CRN	Type	Section	Time	Days	Location	Instructor
10587	independent study		ARRANGED
10587: Instructor Approval Required
51929	lecture-discussion	SG1	03:30 PM - 04:50 PM	TR	room G36 Foreign Languages Bldg	Gonzo, S
51929: 3 hours Discovery course. First Year Discovery Program course. Registration restricted to freshmen. Students should enroll in only one Discovery course. TOPIC: Language, Gender, & Social Interaction in the Global Village. This course focuses on the relationship between language and gender by analyzing how women and men use and interpret language in their everyday lives. Adopting a cross-cultural perspective, we will compare language use in the US and other countries to see how gender and power differences are reflected across languages and cultures. The class will consider: the extent to which women and men should be considered members of different cultural groups; how gender and power relationships are reflected in language in different cultures; the factors besides gender that lead to language differentiation, and how these factors interact with gender. In addition to assigned readings, students will meet individually each week with international students from different language backgrounds who are enrolled in the Intensive English Institute. Data from these interactions as well as from radio, TV and other sources will serve as the empirical basis for student projects.

214 TESL in the Elementary School credit: 2 hours.
